Before we start this Q&A session, I want to make a correction. In Q&A session number 7, I stated that Khan En.lil is Sirian and therefore, he looks like Gimli. This is incorrect. In the Wes Penre Papers (WPP) Level 2, I wrote a lot about the Sirian Wolven-Reptilians, and that they are the DAKH warriors. They are, but that's not the whole story. In Level 4, I realized that I hadn't gone back far enough in time—the Sirians were invaded by the Arcturians before the Sirian/Arcturian attack on Orion and before the invasion of our solar system, and the Arcturians and the Sirians made a pact—in other words, the Sirians joined the DAKH forces. The head of the DAKH warriors from Arcturus was Khan En.lil, who later made a marriage deal with the Queen. Therefore, Khan En.lil is of the Bird Tribe and NOT Wolven-Reptilian. Thus, it's incorrect what I said in Session 7. He doesn't look like Gimli, but more like Ninurta and En.ki—like reptilian birds. I am sorry about the confusion.

From this session and on, we have decided to not answer ALL questions we get (something we've done thus far, for the most part). We want to be more selective for certain reasons; we don't want to fall too much behind, we don't want to answer questions we've already answered, and we want to answer questions that pertain to the kind of research we do and have done. With that said, please send more questions! Just ask what's on your mind—we'll sort them out on our end.

Now, time for a new Q&A session:

QUESTION 1: Could those who vibrate at a high frequency, i.e. positive emotions, improve themselves through inner work, etc. and somehow just exit through the grid at death, unknowingly, simply because of their vibration? Or is it always about belief systems (which allows for entity manipulation) and knowing about the trap and setting intention to escape?

ANSWER: There is always a chance that souls in general can go through the Grid, without understanding what they're doing. The problem is that even if a person is of a high vibration, they might not know anything about the Grid, Orion, or the Matrix. These souls, exiting the Grid, might not experience that much outside of the ordinary. They see what they've been taught to see from what they've learned within the Matrix. When we exit, we need to be open-minded. We don't know exactly what we will experience, and the more we've shed our belief systems that we've created here, the more accurately we will experience the KHAA. It's a matter of getting rid of our filters, i.e. as many beliefs and belief systems as possible.

So, we cannot just leave unknowingly and think everything will be great. We must have the intention of leaving, go through the Grid, and get out. If someone gets out "accidentally," they will most certainly be escorted back to the recycling center. It must be a personal choice (Freewill) and we must get ourselves out with our own action.

QUESTION 2: Do Christians ignorantly practice pedophilia, child sacrificing acts (eating of virgins' flesh and drinking the Blood) by symbolically eating the bread and drinking the wine in the lords supper remembrance? Does this make the origins of satanism as also the origins of Christianity?

ANSWER: No, the Holy Eucharist or Communion is not about pedophilia or child sacrifice. The Holy Eucharist is a ritual. The priest or minister, unknowingly, performs the actions of the ritual which, in all other circles, would be considered High Magic of transformation and transcendence. ALL religions have the same origins.

QUESTION 3: I'm wondering about sleep: when we are dreaming, are we ever susceptible to attack in the astral, since sometimes we have no clue we are dreaming, and then cannot maintain our vibration, as we believe what we see is our reality. Montalk speaks a lot about this one on his site. I've had dreams that can be over-the-top and actually quite scary and frightening. Do you believe awakened people can be targets in the dream world, as we do not always have lucid dreams, when we are aware that we are dreaming?

ANSWER: Often, it's the subconscious speaking to us in our dreams. We process things that we experience in our daily lives in dreamscape, and the subconscious often communicates with us in symbolism—this is why dream interpretation works fairly well. We might also encounter fears that we know, or don't know, that we possess. Dreams are trying to help us cope with our daily reality. Sometimes, we astral travel during sleep, and then we might encounter what's in the astral. Many OBE teachers, such as Dr. William Buhlman, emphasizes that people do not get possessed during sleep or while having an OBE. This doesn't mean people can't get possessed in other ways, but that is another story.

QUESTION 4: Please explain the purpose of natural calamities. How is it that people learn more after traumatic experiences caused by situations created by a calamity? Is that really a right way to make souls learn?

ANSWER: Natural calamities can happen for any number of reasons. It's up to us as to how we react to them. Traumatic experiences can be a catalyst to spiritual growth. If our lives were perfect, no one would seek the truth of our reality to change the situations they find themselves in. Whether or not we choose to learn from our hardships is up to the individual. It's a matter of perspective. That's part of the Freewill design of our reality. No one is making anyone learn here. It's up to the individuals whether they want to use their experiences for their own growth or be beaten by them. It is not our place to say what is right or what is wrong.

Beings throughout the Universe, to some degree, learn from traumatic experiences, and in our own way, so do we. If we're in a car accident because we drove too fast on black ice, we learn to drive slower next time. However, because we humans have amnesia, and much of the traumas get buried in the subconscious mind, it's more difficult for us to learn from our experiences than it is for a star being, who has total recall. And as one of my sources pointed out—trauma is NOT the best way to learn, but it is a big part of how we learn in this particular Matrix, unfortunately.

QUESTION 5: Here, in India, we believe in spiritual gurus. They have been around for a very long time. They are similar in description to spiritual guides. These spiritual gurus have been known to possess a lot of special powers they have attained through years of meditation and seeking. They don't even speak to (let alone clearly) or take money from people who visit them. What is your opinion about them? Are they star beings who truly want to help the human race? Do they switch between dimensions or densities when we think they have disappeared?

ANSWER: Those gurus—those who actually are genuine, are just humans, like you and I. Gurus, who make people come into greater insights about their lives, and about cosmos in general, are just teaching what they themselves have learned and practiced because they've been on a spiritual path, probably for several lifetimes.

QUESTION 6: What happens to physics outside of En.ki's realm? Are there more forces we do not know about? What happens to electricity, magnetism, gravity, acceleration, etc. outside, in the KHAA?

ANSWER: Physics in the KHAA, in many ways, differs from the physics in this containment. Some of it works the same, other things don't. This is something we get to learn once we're there. We don't know exactly how it works outside the Matrix.

QUESTION 7: Am I a female here in this life for any soul reason? Is there a purpose or meaning behind me being female and Jose being male, or is it just by this simulation's design? Does me being female have anything to do with the true me that resides outside of this matrix?

ANSWER: Because you, like most of us, probably have had several incarnations here on Earth, you've been both male and female, respectively, depending on the lifetime. Your gender on this planet has nothing to do with the "true you." Being male is part of being female, from a soul perspective. We all have both male and female attributes inside. The female part of you, regardless whether you have a male or female body, is the nurturing, intuitive, and creative side, while the male energies inside you are straight forward, outgoing, moving forward, "getting things done." En.ki divided us into men and women, which has nothing to do with feminine/masculine energies. They are two different things because we all have both of the latter—balanced or not.

QUESTION 8: You mentioned the Elite and AIF are very superstitious. What do you mean by that? Please elaborate on this further.

ANSWER: Men and women that are considered "elite" here are a superstitious bunch in that they infuse ritual into many different areas. It has been said that they will not even conduct business deals and operations without certain ritual aspects or it is not considered legitimate.

QUESTION 9: The Orion Empire is perhaps the biggest Empire in business and trade in the Universe, if we are to refer to the size of the Empire [...]. If those guys aren't 3D and don't live the physical way we live, what kind of trade would they need? They probably don't need merchandise and food like we use, so what kind of business and trade do Spirits do?

ANSWER: Most of them are just as physical as we are because they also live in 3D, but in another density of the 3rd Dimension, as explained in a previous Q&A session. They are less dense and can do things we can't do in our super-dense reality, but other than that, most of them have physical bodies. Therefore, many do eat and need a multitude of things—some of them similar to what we need, while other things pertain specifically to particular star races.

QUESTION 10: Does our gender, looks and things that may be not quite right without bodies or personalities, carry over out past the grid? Or are all these just a part of the Matrix here on earth and the astral realm we are connected to via our silver cord?

ANSWER: The way we look, physically, has no bearing in the KHAA. We don't bring those attributes with us. When we're in our light-body/avatar, we can shapeshift into any shape and form we like. Moreover, the body you have now is just one of perhaps thousands of other bodies you've had in other lifetimes, and they all looked very different from each other.

QUESTION 11: It was mentioned that the mother Goddess [in Orion] is very present in their [star beings'] daily life. I wonder if this also means that the regular citizen can interact face to face with the Orion Queen as more like a mother, or is this-more often than not--done telepathically, without having to be near her presence?

ANSWER: It's both. They can communicate telepathically. We can, too, and we do, without being aware of it. We think it's our own thoughts we are thinking. The Queen is also MINGLING with star beings in Orion, and they can call upon Her, if necessary, and She might show up. The latter is more like if someone is in trouble and needs some kind of assistance.

QUESTION 12: If I am meditating, and I feel the need to ask for divine intervention, and I direct my request to "the Prime Creatrix" or some such, am I actually "getting through," or is my request and intention getting "captured" in the Grid and hijacked? What title, name or term should one use?

ANSWER: There is a great chance you will get through, if you are focused enough. Will She respond? She might, but not always in a direct communication like between you and me—it could be subtler and in metaphors, etc. You can call Her by any name you think would be appropriate. She will know...

In practical terms, the only way to connect to outside of this Matrix is going inside yourself and having the intention to connect to that part of yourself that is a direct aspect of Her within you. You really don't need a title, name, or term. A sincere intention is all you need. Your consciousness knows the connection you are intending to make.

QUESTION 13: In congruence to the above question, how is gender classification done in Orion? Is it also based more on your biological makeup like that of Earth? On our planet, there is this great pressure to identify towards a certain gender, and people who cannot see themselves in the gender associated with their biological makeup are criticized and even ridiculed. How is it different in Orion?

ANSWER: Many—if not most—of the star beings are androgynous, meaning they inhabit both sexes and can choose which gender they want to represent themselves as, when appropriate. However, there are also star beings who have two sexes (or more, so I've heard), just like us, and they are in that sense similar to us. We are criticizing other's appearance out of fear of the unknown. That's not common in the KHAA—they don't have amnesia. They are very used to diversity.

QUESTION 14: It was mentioned that Mintaka is an extremely hot blue star and that 3D beings cannot possibly live in such conditions. I wonder how beings of a higher dimension see their sky in Orion. What is their sky like? Their seasons, climate, weather, etc.

ANSWER: Stars are multidimensional. We experience the Sun as being very hot in our density, but in other densities, it is habitable. The same goes with planets. If you visit a planet or star/sun in the KHAA in one density, it might be barren or hot. In another density, it is teeming with life. If you go to another planet somewhere, the color of the sky will mostly depend on the color of the sun, but also on if it's a multi-star system, and if it has moons, etc. How the sky will look like for a being who lives in a star, I couldn't tell. Also, some KHAA beings live inside planets, as well, or on and in other celestial bodies.
