This is Wes Penre with a short video announcement! In order to ensure freedom of expression, creative content, and provide a social media platform for like-minded individuals, Kent Lewiss has developed a multi-platform solution to allow for continuing access to information, regardless of your interest.

Freedom.social is a start-up project, which is in its beta phase of testing. In our desire to make sure our information reaches as many people as possible, and to those who are interested in the topics we discuss, but may be new to the Wes Penre research, we have decided to create an additional video channel on Kent's FreedomTube platform. We think freedom of expression and the ability to create content that is informative is worth protecting, and we applaud Kent Lewiss for his resourcefulness, forethought, and initiative to take the necessary steps in order to provide safe and free platforms for creation and community within the internet.

If you like to watch videos on topics such as ours, build connections with like-minded people in a friendly and respectful setting within an internet community, and want to help support this project, as we do, please visit <https://freedom.social> (the URL is also in the Description box below) to see all the hard work that Kent has put into building this type of community. Please also check out our own platform at FreedomTube by visiting <https://freedom.social/wespenreproductions-register> (this URL is also in the description box). Our videos will remain available on both platforms, so whether we connect with you here or there, thank you for your support.
